What We Can Do

By Stephen Ross
Seaside City Councilman

Appointed by the Director of the League of California Cities, representing the Monterey Bay Division, I am a member of the Human Resources Development Committee. This is a statewide committee, and is chaired by Ted C. Wills, Mayor of Fresno. The committee deals with the total subject of human resources and manpower, as it affects California.

Dr. Robert E. Boynton, PhD, of the Navy Management Systems Center, stated in a speech to the Seaside Kiwanis Club recently, that there is a phrase used in professional management circles which goes something like this:

Asked what thet wanted from their job, this is how they ranked the concerns:
1. Interesting work; 2. Enough help and equipment to get the job done; 3. Enough information about the task to get the job done; 4. Enough authority to get things done; 5. Good pay, (personal); 6. Opportunity to develop; 7. Job security; 8. Seeing the results of the work done.

According to reliable sources, California will NOT receive as much money overall under revenue sharing, as the State did under the categorical grant policy of the past. This means that better planning MUST be done, if we are to survive.

We must look at the list above, and see which of the EIGHT points are missing or lacking in this whole business. Then we must work to get it initiated.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. At our last meeting of the HRD Committee, which was in San Diego last week, I recommended, and the Committee approved, that the Chairman of our Committee, Mayor Wills, ask the President of the League of California Cities to arrange a special meeting with Governor Reagan and officials of California cities to discuss his program, especially the part that deals with people's problems and financing for same.

2. I shall ask AMBAG, (Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments) to organize a Human Resources Advisory Committee, and make it a standing committee of AMBAG.

3. I shall recommend to the Mayors of the Monterey Peninsula that they create an Area-Wide Resources Planning Committee. This Committee would report to the Council of Mayors and to their respective City Councils.

4. IN OUR CITY OF SEASIDE:

a) I shall ask the Council to set up a special committee to deal with the subject of Human Resources for Seaside. This Committee would gather data and report back. Their assignment would also include the question of whether a permanent Commission should be formed, or whether the ongoing work could be done by the Human Relations Commission - given the proper tools with which to work.

The concerns which would be addressed by the Committee would include, but not limited to, the following:

* Revenue sharing; how much should be used for social services, and for what services.
* PEP, and job creation in the public sector.
* Welfare recipients and the work ethic.
* Level of funding.
* Degree of Federal and State involvement.

8 degree of regional involvement (or area involvement).
* Degree of City involvement.
* The kind of competition for, or overlaping of, services.
* Linkage of vocational education and the employment service.
* Provisions for oversight and monitoring, responsibility and final authority for evaluation.
* Multi-year funding and multi-year planning.
* Rewards or bonuses for linking vocational education and manpower systems.
* Other manpower programs and services funded from other sources.
* Employment needs assessment.

5. A Community Meeting of People of Seaside.

I shall recommend the formation of a Social Planning Council which will include all segments of our society and which will maintain a liaison and working relations with the other four organizations, as described here.

Hopefully, the other groups will be addressing themselves to these same subjects, in addition to whatever problems should be considered at the time.

Seaside High Band Needs Help For Trip

NEED YOUR HELP - Seaside High School Band has been selected to perform at Arizona conference, but needs money to make trip possible. Won't you help? See story for details.

Seaside High School's 70 piece concert band has been selected to represent 6california at the Western Division annual meeting of the Music Educators National Conference in Tucson, Arizon, next March, 6band Director Jack Bayes has announced.

But there's a catch.

In order to make it to the prestigious performance, the band has to come up with an estimated $3,500 needed for transportation and lodging for the five-day trip, Bayes said.

The student musicians will be raising funds through car washes, candy sales and other activities, he said. Buy Bayes is also hoping to get some financial help from merchants and community orgainzations. He asked that anyone interested in helping to sponsor the band contact his at the high school. The band will be available for concert performances, he said.

"This is quite a feather in our cap," the director said, noting that while the band has collected number of awards for its marching abilities over the years, this invitation was based purely on the group's musical abilities.

The Seaside band was chosen on the strength of tape recordings submitted to the music educators organization. Bayes said at least 10 high school bands throughout California had submitted tapes in hopes of being chosen for the Arizona performance. Three, including Seaside High, were selected.

Dickens' 'Christmas Carol' Being Presented This Weekend

Hidden Valley's Theatre for Children, The Magic Carpet, gives you the Deckens.

Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" will be presented in the Sunset Theatre December 22nd and 23rd at 7:30 p.m. The production of Dickens' Christmas classic marks the first birthday for Hidden Valley's Theatre for Children, directed by Jim Mairs. Last year's production was the first attempt by the group to bring high quality theatre for children to the Peninsula. The story of Scrooge's rebirth was portrayed realistically, with period costumes and sets and was well received by all.

This Christmas, the play will be considerably different. First it will be performed by the Magic Carpet. The Magic Carpet uses few props, costumes or sets. The group has become very popular for trusting its audiences imaginations and being dedicated to spark those imaginations. The "Christmas Carol" this year will be presented in this style, where the audience supplies the settings and The Magic Carpet provides the people. Last month's production of "Alice in Wonderland" in this style was very successful. Each audience member, young or old, built his own "wonderland". This use of imagination and willingness to suspend disbelief is the goal of The Magic Carpet.

Each member of The Magic Carpet will portray several different characters with the aid of only one costume piece or prop. For example, the actor who plays Bob Cratchit, Scrooge's underpaid clerk, will have only a scarf to help him make you believe in Bon Cratchit. The Magic Carpet includes regulars Debbie Berry, John Bristol, Edie Donahoe, Greg Fessler, Steve and June Fry, Carlo Grossman, Lance Jacobson, Steve Keener, John Rousseau and Wynn White. Joining the Magic Carpet are special guests Richard Andante, Jamie Ark, Danny Bussinger, and Floss Larsen. Dave Johnson will provide percussion and sound effects for the production.

The Magic Carpet and guests will start the fun at 7:30 p.m. Fri., Dec. 22nd and Sat., Dec. 23rd. Tickets are available at the door or by calling 624-6911. Parents, if you haven't heard of the Magic Carpet, ask your kids.

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

By Clint Porter
(In the absence of Andy Barragan)

A.E. Barragan

I have been asked to repeat a column published in our February 10th issue. Normally this would not have been acknowledged but the party asking for the repeat convinced me it was a good idea.

When all the songs have been sung;

When all the bells have been rung;

When you have attained the goal in life which you set for yourself; what reason will there be for you to continue in this world? Not one solitary reason. But by all means set your goals. But set them in levels. Reach your levels one-by-one. And set another level. Reach that one. And another and another. But advance in your levels so that your next one will be a little higher. That way you can go on and on. I hope I never reach my highest level. I want to always have "someplace to go." As I am attempting to reach a level I have designated for myself, I am constantly looking for someone else to go along with me -- Someone who is probably lost or undecided or just lonely. The more people who pull for the same goal, the more likely that goal is to be attained.

Remember this, when enough people pull for the same thing simultaneously, nothing is strong enough to keep it from succeeding. That could be in any vein you may think of.

Government - If you don't like the way the country is run, this being a Democratic form of government, it should be easy to change. How?

NAACP Head Says Black Should Be Named

Leonard H. Carter, Regional Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called for a departure from California's 40 year old tradition of an "all white" State Personnel Board.

Carter said, "Governor Reagan should make his next appointment to this important Board a qualified Black person."

"We are mindful that Governors in the past have perpetuated this unfortunate tradition. Governor Reagan does not have to make the same mistake," Carter said.

"The state's announced position as an equal opportunity employer would be much more meaningful if its own employment agency, the State Personnel Board, reflected tangible evidence in the personnel of the Board."

Carter concluded, "This post is too important to be continuously filled by persons who bring a body of experience dissimilar from Black and other minority persons who are struggling to achieve equality in employment in today's economy."

The 10 year term of Sam Leask, an appointee of former Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown will expire in January 1973.

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everyone. There;s something new in TODAY'S ARMY for the young woman who qualifies. Women in TODAY'S ARMY are now eligible for Military Police Training. They will be formally trained as Military Police and twenty of them will participate in a pilot program at Ft. Gordon, Georgia in 1973.

Previously, members of the Women's Army Corps (Wacs) had received on-the-job training as Military Police and had limited duties to perform. They did not carry weapons. The new Army policy, however, emphasizes that Wacs who qualify for the MP Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) 95B will not be used solely in administrative and clerical tasks. When appropriate, they will be armed with .38 caliber revolvers and may be authorized to carry concealed weapons. The Army decided to change its policy because civilian law enforcement agencies have shown that women can be effectively utilized in law enforcement duties.

The 20 Wacs who will be trained in this pilot program will be chosen from a list of volunteers. If the program is a success, TODAY'S ARMY projects 120 Wacs will be trained as MP's the following year. Upon completion of the pilot program, the graduates will be assigned to MP units throughout the United States in groups of no less than two.

They will perform such duties as patrol, information booths, installation access and MP desk, traffic control, investigation and law enforcement, and supervisory duties. Considered inappropriate assignments are the custody of prisoners, dog handling, manning guard posts, wildlige conservation and tasks involving a high proability of danger and violence. Wac MP's will wear Class A uniforms with standard Wac headgear. Although they will not wear the MP club and carrier, they might wear the MP brassard and leather belt without the cross strap. Women if you've been seeking Police work. There it is!!

Young men and women. Now is the time, let us assist you in beginning your career. For more information we can be contacted at 431-Webster St. Monterey or call 372-4742-372-0553. TODAY'S ARMY IS WISHING ALL OF YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Cash Awards Made at Ord

Harness Initiative with Incentive and you have a sure bet in the Suggestion Awards program.

Eighteen-hundred dollars were the winnings for John R. Flaherty and Robert L. Yoho of the Finance and Accounting Division at Fort Ord.

Lieutenant Colonel John G. Nicks, Ft. Ord's finance officer, presented the checks December 7, saying, "We're very happy for this. It's enabled us to get a lot more work done at a critical time."

It just took a week for Mr. Flaherty, a GS-4 and a retired Army lieutenant colonel, to formulate his suggestion which will save the Army an estimated $148,500 for the first year. According to the Suggestion Award Certificate, his idea resulted in "elimination of a backlog of 30,000 to 40,000 unprocessed finance documents."

"I'm thinking of giving the money to my wife for our 25th wedding anniversary," said Mr. Flaherty, who has been with the Finance Office for eight months. He and his wife, Helen, live in Marina.

Mr. Yoho, a Salinas resident, hasn't decided what to do with his $810 yet. Asked if he got any help with his suggestion, he replied, "No, but all the people in the section were all for it. It's the first out of two or three I've sent in, to be approved." He has been with the Finance Office for 23 years.

It took him about three months to polish up his plan which resulted in "reducing time requiring in filing and finding finance documents and eliminating four clerical positions for the files section" and an estimated $21,000 for the first year.

Both these suggestions have only been adopted by Ft. Ord but if other installations decide to use them more money could be forthcoming. These are two of the largest awards ever to be received in the Finance Office since 1926 when the Incentive Awards program was first introduced. Since that time, 155 suggestions have been adopted totalling $14,800 in awards and $250,000 in savings in this section alone.

Seaside Ripples

By votes. Under the Democratic rule, the majority wins. That's simple. When enough people pull for the same thing.....

Prosperity - Some people are poor and barely making it (if they make it at all), while others have an excess of their needs. If enough people seriously considered a plan whereas the ones with the excess could pool just their excess, not their needs, into a pile which was to be distributed according to the needs of the poor (individually), something like a loan so that the poor could be taught to invest or use their share of the excess to their greatest advantage, they could get on their feet and return the loan to the "excess pool." Many, many people who are reading this are probably saying it would never work. Or more likely they are saying that the people with the excess will never agree to that. How do they know? Has anuone approached them? Does anyone have the nerve to talk to the Kennedys' or the Rockefellers' or the Hughes' or the Mellons' or any of the ultra-rich and inquire if they would indeed assist in forming a pool? No. But if enough people asked them and if these people asked them the right way, with a sort of guaranteed, workable plan, who knows? Remeber, when enough people pull for the same thing simultaneously, nothing is strong enough to keep it from succeeding. But it has to be bonefide and correct, And you have to approach it with the KNOWING that it will succeed. That applies to anything.

Love - Not just love of one man to one woman. We are dealing with vastness. Love of one city to another. Love of one state to another.

Just a minute. Don't be hasty. Let's re-hash a little. Love of one city to another. I saw that smile on your face. There certainly are cities who dislike entire cities. Maybe not for a real solid reason, but there is dislike. What city? Washington D.C., for instance. When that city is mentioned whole populations feel an instant dislike. Not because the city is bad, but just because it reminds them of Government and they dislike Government. People feel the same way about states, too. Texas, for example, many people from Texas actually deny they were born there. Why? No one really knows, except probably that state above all others have boasted of bigness. And no other state (except Alaska, and we even forget it exists most of the time, or Hawaii, and we consider that as an imaginary paradise until we visit there) can deny the vastness of Texas. So people dislike it and everyone in it. But we are still taling about love.

There's the love of one nation for another. Now we are really getting someplace. Suppose everyone in one nation or country pulled together and said they really had no concrete reason to dislike another country? And suppose they told that country the good news. You know what the result would be? Instant peace. What else? You can't fight someone who loves you. It isn't human. When enough people pull together.....Fellow me? Good. Keep following.

Belief - What is it? Confidence. Trust. That's all. Nevertheless, belief is a very strong word. In fact, it is really a feeling. No words could be that strong. You know the story well: There was a child born. Most of his childhood was unrecorded. In fact he was practically unknown until he became a man. I believe that as a child he was like an oily rag left in a dark, warm corner. As he grew up, like an oily rag, spontaneous combustion set in and he literally exploded into this world like a ball of fire. He spread love and goodwill and all the other wonderful things imaginable to man. And a multitude of people believed him to be the Son of God. And today, this belief is still just as strong as it was over nineteen hundred and fifty years ago. I believe he was the Son of God. So do most of you. Why? When enough people pull together for the same thing, nothing is strong enough to keep it from succeeding.

A good example of this strength and much closer to home is the fact of the candles we burned for our friend and editor, Andy Barragan. He is still with us. We KNEW the light would be seen. Enough people pulled together at that one moment - simultaneously - and it worked. God bless you all.

Fly into the sky within your heart;
Fly above the treetops while sitting on a rock
Reach into the infinite from way down below
Get a little higher is the only way to go.

Signed Vernon

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

The new Seaside-Peninsula Map has finally arrived! It is really great! Twenty thousand maps and 200 wall maps are now at the Chamber Office. They will be distributed to both the Army and Navy to be sent out with packets to people coming to the Peninsula. Naturally, visitors will get the first map free, then will be charged 25¢ for each additional map. Members of the Chamber will get quantities for 15¢ each.

The last Board of Directors Meeting of 1972 was held at the Chamber on December 14. A new Government Affairs Committee has been formed with Dick Penrose of Seaside Pharmacy as Chairman. The purpose of the Committee is to keep the businessmen informed about new plans and projects in City Government and to assist City Staff and elected officials by presenting ideas from a businessman's point of view. Anyone wishing to sit in on this Committee is most welcome. It will be meeting the first and third Wednesday of every month at 8 a.m. at the Chamber Office.

The Business Development Committee held an interesting meeting on Wednesday, December 13. (It meets the second Wednesday of every month at 8 a.m. at the Chamber office). Don Butts chaired the meeting, which was attended by members of the Chamber plus Mayor B. J. Dolan, Jr.; Councilman Joe Cota, Councilman Steve Ross, City Manager Dudley Lapham, Planning Director Bill Burris, Public Works Director Ted Thoney, Parks and Recreation Director Cleve Williams, Architect Richard Murray, County Supervisor Roger Poyner, and Victor Noble of the Redevelopment Agency.

Planning Director Bill Hurris began the meeting by explaining the history of Fremont Boulevard in Seaside. For many years it was an eye-sore with an abundance of telephone poles and wires and signs. With the development of a General Plan, the planning consultant suggested the channelization of Fremont, which would help the traffic and appearance of the street.

Approval of the plan came from the Planning Commission Parks and Recreation Department, the Tree Committee, Beautification Committee and City Council. Three major changes were made by the Council...1) 2 additional planters, 2) the opening of Olympic, 3) the modification of existing planters on LaSalle. The plan was implemented two years ago.

The channelization project on Fremont was originally scheduled to be done last summer (1972), but the bid that came in to the city was too high. Adjustments were made on the plan, and the 2nd bid came in $40,000 less than the first. One of the reasons it was necessary to begin as soon as possible (and not to wait until after Christmas to begin the Project) was that the City may have lost the $60,370 in TOPICS funding (for traffic safety) that was helping to pay for the project.

The termination of the Fremont Project north of Broadway should be April 1, 1973. Unfortunately, the funding for the planting of trees and shrubs is not currently available, so it may be a while before Fremont is green. Plans have been drawn for the placement of trees, and these were discussed by the members present. No objections were raised.

Parking facilities for the area above Broadway were also discussed. Presently, the Planning Department is developing plans for additional parking districts. Input from the business community is welcome by the Planning Department.

The annual Christmas Decoration Contest was judged Tuesday, December 19, and awards will be presented Wednesday, December 20, at 2 p.m. at City Hall. Christmas Carols will be sung and refreshments served at the Monterey Prninsula Auto Center in Seaside on Wednesday evening, December 20, at 7 p.m. The Singers will be from Victory, Temple Church.

The Seaside Community Band under Ben Turner will also perform. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Editor: Good ideas could make us live together, better ideas could make us solve our racial inbalance.

Let us think in national terms not of this year but of the future years.

The action of our school Superintendent Mr. Allan J. Petersdorf in having a representative for each minority group is desirable and outstanding idea because he is creating a climate where these factions or groups can talk and communicate with each other for a better understanding and find a good solution for the racial inbalance in our schools.

There are many suggestions and plans for integration and quality education in our schools. The pro and con for busing to achieve integration and quality education is really not worthy of doing it. It is just double talking and foot dragging.

It is my personal feeling that the key to achieve integration and quality education is to have a university or college type of school where everybody goes to that school.

Hopefully the blacks, the whites and other minority groups will feel sure that their children at the school are getting the same type of services and protections.

In this type of school we are not only integrating the kids but also parents and school teachers and other people connected in the school.

As I see it the only desirable neighborhood schools are the kindergarten and primary schools. Let us help the young kids get educated near our homes before they get bused far from our homes.

Busing the young kids is frustrating and make parents worry too much. By the way, kids don't understand race prejudice unless parents tell them.

If equality is to be a reality it is the heart and mind that needs to be changed and improved. The civil rights is OK but there is more to be done in our hearts and in our minds to really achieve its purpose. It is the results that counts.

Please examine your hearts and minds and try to think if you are in the place of the minority groups. What will you do and what will you feel about it?

Think in National Terms not this year but of the future years. Thank you.

Yours very sincerely
Tony Sison

MERRY CHRISTMAS

On behalf of your City Council and also from our dedicated City Staff, we wish to take this opportunity to wish everyone a wonderfully joyous Holiday Season!

The entire City can be proud of the many decorations that are in evidence throughout the business district; there are festively decorated blocks and the increased number of homes artfully lighted are a pleasure to behold. Visitors to the peninsula are now coming to Seaside to tour and see the beautifully lit displays in every sector of our City.

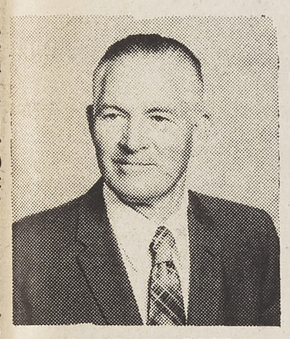

This afternoon at 2 p.m., the Christmas Decorations Contest Awards will be presented in the Council Chambers. "Open House" will prevail at City Hall from 2 to 4 p.m. and refreshments will be served. Many of our citizens have never taken the time to visit City Hall and we would also extend you an invitation to pay us a visit during "Open House" this afternoon.

Starting at 7 p.m. tonight, there will be Christmas Carols and Community Singing provided by our very own Community groups with hot cider and refreshments donated by the Chamber of Commerce at the "Christmas Tree" inGateway Auto Center. Congratulations to our Human Relations Commission is sponsoring this event.

All of our Ministers join me in urging you to find time to rejoice in our Saviour's Birthday by attending the church of your choice.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

Discrimination, that's what it is, and the hue and cry over the latest injustice will go on for months and years. The latest ruling is that places serving liquor can no longer have topless and/or bottomless females adorning the premises. Competition being what it is, and the quality of liquor being more or less equal however or wherever purchased, a number of bars employed girls to attract customers, and it naturally evolved that the better built the girls were and the less clothes they wore the more customers showed up.

After all, why get stinko drunk sitting at a bar looking at the average ugly bartender when you can get stinko drunk looking at either the bottomless or topless half or both of a real female, depending on individual taste. And even after the original novelty wears off, why not stay put until closing, rather than go home to certain battle with friend wifey who might look far more attractive with clothes on that without.

Unfortunately, the doogooders and no doubt the bar owners who did not care to compete in that manner put the pressure on, and a new morality will henceforth rule in what used to be interesting places to spend leisure hours. But, is it not discriminatory that a place that does not serve liquor, for example a plain restaurant or a clothing or hardware store, can legally employ topless and bottomless waitresses and clerks?

Being in the construction business I would myself of course rather buy lumber from a topless salesgirl and have it loaded on my truck by a bottomless female yard worker than from the people I now deal with.

Anyway, I guess the John Birchers are right. Our individual freedoms are one by one being taken away from us. Our freedom of press is being threatened by an administration that is being somewhat hampered and embarrassed by factual reporting of shady events. Excellent examples are the reporters brought home from Vietnam for being critical of American or South Vietnamese policies, while making idiots like Joe Alsop into martyrs, and before this century turns the corner I expect freedom of speech will be long since forgotten.

But rank discrimination; that's what we've been trying to do away with, isn't it, and here we are being told we can legally buy a hamburger at a restaurant from a naked girl, but we can't go to a bar and buy a martini from her sister unless her sister has clothes on. Something has just got to be wrong.

Bob Wood Reports

The story of California is the story of water, to a compelling degree. Thus, it is not surprising that water should be the focal point of controversy after controversy in the State Legislature, ranking with taxes, education, law enforcement and welfare as a prime legislative interest.

This year's water controversy concerned wild rivers, and pitted conservation interests against public safety interests, economic interests against aesthetic interests, local needs against state-wide needs.

What is a wild river? Essentially it is nothing more nor less than a major river unencumbered by dams or structural diversions. 120 years ago there were 38 complete river systems which flowed into the Pacific Ocean within California's borders. Today there are three, the Eel, Trinity and Klamath Rivers of California's north coastal region.

In the past, dams have been constructed on major rivers for good reasons, hydro-electric power, flood control, water export and recreation being among them. As early as 1928, the voters approved a state water policy which requires "...that the water resources of the state be put to beneficial use to the fullest extent of which they are capable..."

Two bills were introduced early this year to protect the status of the state's last remaining free-flowing rivers. One was tougher than the other, placing a 20-year moratorium on the planning or construction of dams. It is argued, and it is hard for me to disagree, that the protection of the few remaining free-flowing rivers is, in itself, putting these water resources to their fullest beneficial use, "by protection and preserving the fish and wildlife, scenic and recreational values which might otherwise be lost..."

The principle opposition argument which has emerged concerns flood control and I am sure if you and I lived along the river, we could understand their reasoning. However, the author of the moratorium, Peter Behr, (R-Marin County) maintains that other flood-control methods, such as levees, flood plains, and temporary storage dams on tributaries could be employed umder provisions of the bill and would be sufficient to prevent flooding rather than build large dams.

Since the initial introduction of both wild river bills, numerous amendments have been made to the point where each does about the same thing. The moratorium period of the Eel has been reduced to about 12 year. Under the tougher of the two measures, not even plans for dams could be undertaken. However, so minor are the differences between the two, that both were passed and are on the Governor's desk, giving the chief executive complete discretion over the issue of "wild rivers".

Editor:
We have been hearing a lot about humming birds starving because of the freeze. In San Francisco people are finding them everywhere weakened from hunger and chilled. They are being advised to hold the birds cupped in their hands to warm them and to feed them sugar water with an eye-dropper.

We have purchased a hummingbird feeder. We got it from Jackson and Perkins, but I think one can be purchased at most nurseries and pet stores. The feed is already prepared or you can make your own by using one part sugar or honey and two parts water. If sugar is used it should be boiled for two or three minutes to make sure that the sugar is completely dissolved and then colored with a few drops of red food coloring. Do not use detergents to wash the container and do not use artificial sweeteners. Either of these might be harmful to the birds. Instructions come with the feeder as to its care.

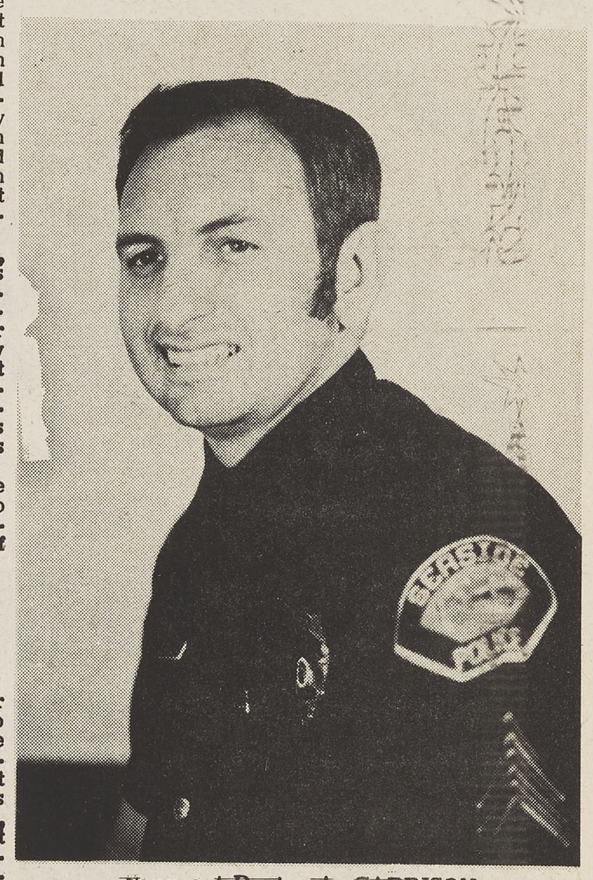

We had purchased our feeder only one week before the freeze and some of the hummingbirds had already found it. Now it is a great joy to us as well as a boon to our feathered friends to see them swarming the feeder.

Any one desiring more information, we will be glad to supply it. Our phone number is 394-2748.

A native of California, he was born in Los Angeles where his family spent a very short time before moving to Santa Clara. Sergeant Garrison spent his entire childhood in Santa Clara where he graduated from Santa Clara High School, after which he attended San Jose City College. During his schooling at San Jose City College, Sergeant Garrison applied for a position with the Seaside Police Department and was hired in September of 1964 as a patrolman. After becoming a police officer, Sergeant Garrison continued his education by attending Monterey Peninsula College where he graduated with his AA degree in 1970. After passing a State examination for the position of Police Sergeant, Garrison was appointed to that position in 1969. He is presently working as a field sergeant in charge of one of the three shifts.

Berkeley and is presently teaching at Gavilan College and at Fort Ord. In addition he is vice-president of the Seaside Police Assoc., president of the Police Pay Board, an active member of the Police Pistol and Basketball teams. He also assists in many activities for our youth.

Sergeant Garrison was presented the Officer of the Year Award for the year of 1967 as the outstanding Police Officer for the City of Seaside. He received his Intermediate Certificate from the State of California Department of Justice Commission of Peace Officer Standards and Training. During the time since he graduated from high school, Sergeant Garrison has spent eight years with the Marine Corp Reserves.

NOTE: CREDO FOR POLICE HUMANISM (part four)

4. I believe.....in the essential goodness of all men, who, if given a chance can attain that level of human potential with which they have been endowed. The police are a vital part of the chance they need. By crossing their lives, the police can be, and often are, a source of hope, help and opportunity.

Letter to the Saints

ENVELOPE ADDRESSED TO THE SAINTS AT SEASIDE
(ENVELOPE DATED-OCTOBER 1, 1972)
(LETTER SIGNATURE - PAUL)

SUBJECT MATTER: LET'S GET TOGETHER IN CHRIST

Every Christian, today, will eat and drink the Lord's Supper in remembrance of our Lord's death and resurrection. We eat the bread, his body, drink of the cup, he blood. We show our belief in him and in his returning to receive us unto himself. When we have finished eating and drinking, we must show our love for Christ to our Fellow-Christian and our Fellow-man. He that live for Christ will reign with him.

NOW!! Paul's letter (1 Cor. 1-10)

"Paul, called to an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,

Unto the Church of God in Christ which is in Seaside, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

TO THE SAINTS

Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

TO THE SAINTS

I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you. So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellow ship if his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Now I beseech you, brethern, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

A CHILD IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carr of Pacific Grove are proud parents of their first child. Their infant girl, Tamara Nicole, weighed in at 6 lbs 8 ozs on Friday, September 29 at the Community Hospital. Her father has already nicknamed the baby "T.C."

Mrs. Carr is an agent for Allstate Insurance Company. Mrs. Carr, formally Renee Burchette, worked at the Seaside Branch of the Bank of America.

Tamara is the first grandchild of her maternal grandparents, Sgt. (Ret'd) and Mrs. Roosevelt (Dottye) Williams of Seaside. Her paternal grandparents are George Carr and Mrs. Margaret Latter, both of Charlotte, North Carolina.

VISITORS ON THE PENINSULA

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie (Loretta) Rivers of Seaside, were delighted during the Thanksgiving holidays to have as their house guest, Mrs. Martha Jones and her son, Ron, of Pasadena. The Joneses, former residents of the Monterey Peninsula, enjoyed the gracious hospitality of their host and hostesses, as well as the reunion with many friends they encountered while living here.

The River's son, Bruce, spent his Thanksgiving in Los Angeles, where he had a lovely time visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Artis and their family, who reside in the Inglewood area. The Artis' are also former residents of the Peninsula. They have just recently returned to California, after spending four glorious years in the Canal Zone.

FIRST ANNUAL CHRISTMAS BALL

The Young Executives, Unlimited, is sponsoring their first Christmas Ball on Saturday, December 23rd, from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. at Neptune's Table on the Monterey Wharf. Music will be provided by the "Elements of Peace." Donations are $3.50 in advance and $4.00 at-the-door. Dress is Semi Formal. There will be an excellent door prize and other exciting action.

This group of young adults recently organized for the purpose of assisting the youth of today. Their motto is PEACE. They recently sponsored a raffle to help defray expenses for a Free Christmas party for all children on the peninsula in kindergarten thru the sixth grades, which will be held December 16, from 1 to 3 p.m., at King Junior High School. They have a well planned program for the youngsters, including Santa Claus.

Winners of their raffle at the drawing held on Saturday, November 18, at Seaside High School, were Adrian Roy of Seaside, who took home a ten-speed bike and turkey. Second place winner was Bernice Allen of Seaside, who won a clock radio and a chicken and third winner was Mrs. Matthews of Seaside who won a punch Bowl set and a cornish hen.

President of club is Jerone Davis, a senior at San Jose State University. Other officers and members will be introduced during their Christmas Ball. Members include both male and female.

BANQUET FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

As we all know, senior citizens are people who have made their contributions to the society, and many for reasons of their own have retired to private life. The sad and disturbing thing is that they are among the first to be forgotten. Needless to say, we owe our senior citizens a great deal more than what they have received.

Recognizing the need to be remembered, the Peninsula Lodge No. 46, F & A.M., PHA, will host a Christmas banquet on December 16, for residents of the Senior Citizens Housing Development at Villa Del Monte, of Seaside.

The lodge have planned this banquet in hopes of making it a community affair, and all will share the joy of making the senior adult's Christmas a very merry occasion. Therefore, they appeal to all organizations, clubs, merchants and interested persons for their contributions of foods that inturn will make this affair a success and one to always be remembered.

For further information, and donations, deliveries or food to be picked up, contact Mr. Wright Byrom, 394-2215 or Mr. John D. Finney, 372-0662.

SUPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Mae C. Johnson hosted an elaborate birthday dinner party in her lovely Monterey home, in honor of her dear friend, Geri Armstrong of Seaside, on Sunday, November 26.

Mrs. Armstrong and the many guests were pleased and delighted while indulging in a variety of scrumptiuous hors d'ovres, delicious "soul food" and potent cocktails.

Hostess and guests also enjoyed the thrills of watching the honor guest cut the huge cake and open her many lovely gifts received.

All agreed that Mae Johnson is the perfect hostess, and declared....."When she gives a party, it's TOPS."

RETIREMENT PARTY

Personnel in the Silas B. Hays Army Hospital, Fort Ord, hosted a retirement party in honor of Marion Flaherty, on Thursday, December 7, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., in the hospital dining room.

Mrs. Flaherty officially retired on December 10, after 26 years of Army Federal Civil Service. She began her Civil Service career at Fort Ord on June 2, 1948. Prior to this time, she worked in Florida. Most of her years at Fort Ord, she was a Civilian supervisor of the Chemistry Laboratory department.

Mrs. Flaherty was born in Detroit, Michigan, where she completed all of her schooling. She attended the University of Michigan and the Uni versity of Detroit, where she obtained a degree in 1937.

With her husband, Edward, they reside at Del Mesa, Carmel Valley. She plans to "dab" in painting and will continue with lessons from her husband who also paints. She also plans to continue to sing with a group called "Sweet Adolines," and would like to do some charitable work later on.

Church Will Move to Park

The Russian Orthodox Church, St. Seraphim's in Seaside will soon be moved to a new location.

The Seaside Planning Commission unanimously approved moving the unique building from its present site at Roberts and Monte avenues to a proposed park on the shore of Laguna Grande.

The move is being made to allow K Mart Department Store and other businesses to be built in the new shopping center north of Roberts Lake.

The church's new location will be on Canyon Del Rey Boulevard near the foot of Francis Avenue.

St. Seraphim's will be given the use of a city parking lot, which will be built to serve the park. According to Planning Director William Burris, this was because the city is "getting the use of their church as a building of historical character."

The commission ruled that the move must be made within 120 days over the Church's presentatives objections, but it did pass a condition that no other buildings may be built without commission approval.

The church had requested that there be no parsonage or other residential use of the property.

In other action, the commission approved a use permit for Fatimo Merino, which will allow him to move his palmistry business from 1126 Fremont to 1154A Fremont.

The commission also denied a variance to the Hudson Oil Company to construct a self-service gas station on the northeast corner of Hilby and Fremont.

Wives Club Christmas Ball

Changes Made In Fort Ord Traffic Routes

The movement of automobile and truck traffic on and off Ft. Ord underwent some drastic changes Monday, December 18 and 7 a.m.

At that time motor traffic from the south on Highway #1 entered the post through the new Main Gate. Roadsigns informed motorists of the new Main Gate turnoff. At 8 a.m. the same morning, traffic from the north on Highway #1 entered the post at the new Main Gate.

The 2nd Street Gate, long the entrance used by visitors to Ft. Ord, was permanently closed at 8 a.m. Dec. 18.

The new Main Gate will only handle southbound traffic leaving the post. Drivers heading north must leave either by the 10th Street Gate or the new 12th Street exit.

The 10th Street Gate will continue to handle incoming and outgoing traffic from both the north and the south to and from Highway #1. However, after 8 a.m. Monday, all visitors to Ft. Ord must enter the post at the new Main Gate.

New Law Protects Renters

A new Consumer law defines your right to recover part or all of the deposit given your landlord before you moved in.

This law applies to deposits which your landlord required from you to insure that you meet your obligations in the rental agreement. These obligations include paying the rent, and leaving the premises clean and damage free when you move. Non-refundable cleaning deposits are not covered by this law as the landlord imposes these flat charges whether or not you meet your rental obligations.

California Civil Code Section 1951 (c) states:

"The landlord may claim of such payment or deposit only such amounts as are reasonably necessary to remedy tenant defaults in the payment of rent, to repair damages done to the premises caused by the tenant, or to clean such premises upon termination of the tenancy, if the payment or deposit is made for any or all of those specific purposes. Any remaining portion of such payment or deposit shall be returned to the tenant no later than two weeks after termination of his tenancy."

In other words, your deposit may be used by your landlord to pay back rent, to clean the premises, or to repair damages to the premises which you caused regardless of whether the deposit was called a cleaning, damage or rental deposit when you made it. However, your landlord must give back to you, within two weeks after you move out of the premises, any part of the deposit he did not require for these purposes.

If your landlord refuses to do this, you can sue him in small claims court. A Department of Consumer Affairs; pamphlet "The Consumer and the Small Claims Court" explains, in non-legal language, how this court operates and may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to:

Small Claims Court
P.O. Box 310
Sacramento, California

CHP Seeking Minority Applicants

Young men who meet the qualifications were invited today by Commissioner Walter Pudinski to apply for posts with the California Highway Patrol.

"We are especially interested in obtaining applications from those of minority ancestry," Pudinski said, "for in the past only a handful of blacks, Mexican-Americans, Indians and Orientals have volunteered to join the Patrol."

Starting monthly pay is $905 with periodic merit increases up to $1048. Applicants must be high school graduates--or the equivalent--21 to 31 years old, and minimum of 68 inches tall, and in good physical condition.

Applications must be filed with the State Personnel Board prior to February 3, 1973, for the written examination which is scheduled March 3. Applications are available from any Highway Patrol, State Personnel Board or Department of Human Resources Development Office.

Individuals who apply will receive "identical consideration," the Commissioner said, but the Patrol "will begin an intensive program today aimed at getting the word to minority group members."

Seventy-seven traffic officers stationed throughout California will devate much of their time working with civic church and youth groups in areas of high minority residence seeking applicants who meet the criteria.

Pudinski said he hopes the recruiting campaign will disprove the assumption that very few monority members are interested in law enforcement as a career. "As far as I am concerned, it is far more likely that they think the Patrol is not interested in them," he declared, "and I intend to prove this is untrue."

Successful passage of the written and other qualifying tests will place applicants on an eligible list from which they will be named to training classes at the Patrol's Sacramento Academy. Here they are given 16 weeks of study in more than 70 subjects dealing with traffic law enforcement and related topics.

Upon graduation from the Academy, the new traffic officers are assigned to one of more than 80 Patrol Areas throughout California, where they work for a specified period with an experienced officer as a continuation of the training phase.

Taxes

State Controller Hugh Flournoy has announced the distribution of $7,040,651 to counties and cities as the November apportionment of cigareete tax.

Monterey County received $11,065,79, and Seaside got $9,028.52. The 58 counties' share was $1,348,791 and the cities' share totaled $5,591,860.

Scouts Plan Trip to Jamboree

All Scouts and Explorers are eligible to attend the National Jamboree to be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, 6august 1 through 7, 1973, announced Henry White, chairman of the Monterey Bay Area Council Jamboree.

Those attending will be joining 35,000 other Scouts and Explorers from all 50 states and 40 foreign countries in the largest and most exciting Jamboree ever held in this country.

The local troop, made up of 37 Scouts and 3 adults leaders, will fly to and from the Jamboree in a regularly scheduled airline. The total fee is $300 per person which includes transportation, eqiipment, meals, Jamboree fees and other costs. Reservations should be made now at the Scout Service Center, 55 San Joaquin St. in Salinas.

Jamborees are held once every four years and are a "once-in-a-lifetime" experience for Scouts. They will hold their one week encampment on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille.

Leaders for the local Scout troop are Dick Fellows of Gonzales, Scoutmaster; and Dale Doan of Hollister and Richard Haff of Pacific Grove who are assistant Scoutmasters.

Flood-Damaged Cars Can Cause Problems

Information brought to the attention of the Department of Consumer Affairs by its investigation field office in San Francisco and from State Senator Albert S. Rodda of Sacramento prompts warning to California car buyers of the dangers of buying flood-damaged automobiles. Recent floods in the northeast and in the California areas of Isleton and Big Sur make this problem a possibility.

Consumers should be aware of the signs of flood-damage when buying a car.

* Check all gauges on the dashboard for accuracy. Look for signs of water on the gauges. Beware: Autos that have had water in them up to the dashboard are likely to be dangerous no matter how thoroughly the car has been reconditioned.

* Look for signs of corrosion under the hood, inside and under the car, on bumpers, behind the hub-caps and around the gas cap. Beware: Corrosion of any metal causes weakness in the car.

* Try the lights, windshield wipers, turn signals, cigarette lighter, radio, heater, fans and air conditioner several times to make sure they work repeatedly. Flex some wires under the dash to see if they bend or crack. Beware: Wet wires and rubber hoses become brittle upon drying and can crack and fail at any time.

* Start the car several times. If you see white smoke, this may mean that the engine has just been cleaned out. Drive the car to make certain it accelerates, shifts and stops smoothly. Beware: Mud or sand in fuel, cooling and lubrication systems can cause extensive damage at any time.

* Check the interior and trunk for signs of mud and water. The back seat can be easily removed to check the stuffing and upholstery. Check the carpet for any dampness. Beware: Musty odors and water marks indicate that the upholstery, stuffing, or carpet has been wet and may begin to rot.

* Check the oil and transmission fluid as well as the various mechanical parts under the hood for signs of water. Beware: An indication of water here can cause costly repairs.

Remember: Driving a car that has previously been flood-damaged, no matter how slightly, may be dangerous.

SCHOCKOLADEN CAKE

9 oz. sugar;
1 packet Oetker Vanillin Sugar;
3-4 eggs;

4 1/2 oz. Oetker Fustin (corn starch powder);
1 packet Oetker Baking Powder (backin);
1/4 pint milk;
3 1/2 oz. plain chocolate bitter if possible.

Cream the fat and gradually add the sugar, the vanillin sugar and eggs. Stir in mixed and sieved flour, the Fustin and the Backin, alternately with the milk. Lastly add the chocolate, cut into very small pieces. Grease a tube baking tin and dust with bread crumbs. Fill the mixture into prepared tin. Place low in oven.

Oven moderate (350). Baking time 50-60 Minutes. When cold, dust with icing sugar.

Watch Out For Back Injuries

Although this is the season to be jolly, many persons will be spending the holidays in pain and suffering, the victims of back injury from incorredtly lifting Christmas trees and packages.

This timely warning was issued by Dr. Frank Granito, president of the Monterey Bay Chiropractic Society, who noted that most people do more lifting now than at any other time of the year.

"It's indeed sad that back injuries will ruin the holiday fun for many," Dr. Granito said, "especially since it is easy to avoid injury by just following a few simple rules.

"A package that is lifted improperly can have the effect of being five times heavier than it actually is. Thus, by bending over and incorrectly picking up a 20 pound package, a person might just as well be wrestling with a 100 pound dead weight."

To avoid this, Dr. Granito offered these rules for lifting: First size up the object to be lifted and plant the feet solidly. Then lift with the legs, thighs, arms and shoulders...not the spine. Use a mechanical lifting device if the load is heavy and be sure to have clear vision and path.

There is an additional factor involved with the holidays that makes back problems so common at this time of the year: fatigue.

"With all the running around and last minute shopping, we tend to become fatigued. When this happens a muscle can be rendered less competent to do its work. Then, when one carelessly lifts a Christmas tree or holiday gift, a sprain or strain can occur."

Get the necessary rest during this hectic period, the doctor advises, and always remember to lift properly. If a strain or injury should occur, visit a doctor of chiropractic as soon as possible.

"And, for a New Year's resolution, promise yourself a perventive spinal examination at least once a year as a defensive measure against back problems," he said.

Wants No-Fault

The California State Automobile Association recently called for the California Senate Finance Committee and the State Senate to give its attention to passage of meaningful No Fault auto insurance presently pending in California.

Assembly Bill 125, authored by Assemblyman Jack Fenton (D-Montebello) and co-authored by Senator Alfred Song (D-Monterey Park), is believed to be meaningful auto insurance reform for California motorists.

The CSAA believes passage of this bill would be in the best interest of the motorist.

Bowlers Can Get Award from President

Bowling is among the activities included in a new sports award program introduced by the President's Council of Physical Fitness in a co-ordinated effort to improve the health and physical fitness of American over the age of 18.

Thru this program, any adult who qualifies can win a specially designed chevron, a distinctive collar or lapel pin, and a commemoretive certificate signed by President Nixon.

To win the award for bowling, a participant must roll a minimum of 150 games on at least 34 different occasions, including leagues, according to John Canepa, manager of Cypress Bowl in Monterey. No more than five games may be bowled on any one occasion.

All local bowling centers are participating in the presidential sports Awards Program. Each participant is given a personal log book in which to record games bowled. All details are available at Cypress Bowl.

The Fitness Council concept was initiated in 1956 to stimulate mental alertness and physical fitness through consistent participation in sports and related activities. An awards program for students has been successfully carried out be the Council in co-operation with schools.

SERVED WELL - Miss Bernice Donahue, Congressman Burt Talcott's District Office Manager, is retiring after ten years with Talcott and a 52 year career as legal secretary in Salinas. Congressman said of her retirement: "Her profession and community can be grateful for her long and exceptional career. Young persons considering a professional career could well emulate her qualities." Her replacement has not yet been announced.

Music will be provided by the Sounds of Persuasions, a local band. Tickets will be $1.50 in advance and $1.75 at the door.

Probably, the best featuring event will be a dance contest with first, second, and third place cash awards. There will also be free food and refreshments.

According to James C. Stevenson, club president, this event is nother effort by the Retired Men's Club and the Parks and Recreation Department, to provide wholesome entertainment and social outlets for teenagers throughout the Peninsula.

Three NPS Graduates Honored

Three officers received special awards for scholastic achievement during commencement ceremonies for 250 students at the Naval Postgraduate School recently.

The Navy League of Monterey Award for Academic Achievement was presented to Lt. Harry M. Howton, USN, who received the master of science in oceanography. Lt. Howton completed the eight-quarter program ahead of schedule so that he could accept orders to the Naval Destroyer School. The Navy League award is given to the officers who show the most improvement in his academic standing.

Lt. William R. Wheeler, USN, who graduated with the master of science in mechanical engineering, received the Naval Ship Systems Command Award in Naval Engineering. His selection was based on overall academic performance and the quality of his thesis work on "Experimental Determination of Turning Angle and Losses of Axial Compressor Inlet Guide Vanes."

The Nabal Electronics Systems Command Award in Electronics Engineering went to Ens. Kurt E. Holmquist, USN.

Returns From FBI School

Seaside Police Chief Ben Cooper has completed a 12-week training program at the National Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Quantico, Virginia.

The chief, member of academy's largest class which numbered nearly 300, was instructed in:

1. Law enforcement management: the problems of administering a police department, including how to handle such charges as police brutality or corruption.
2. Forensic science: a study of the art of debating as it pertains to police work.
3. Basic police skills: a polishing of techniques is such procedures as fingerprinting, conduction raids and searching for evidence.
4. Criminal law: a study of the Constitution, Bill of Rights and laws that restrict police power.
5. Community behavior: a study of ways to improve police-community relations in the fields of sociology, psychology, criminology and political science.
6. Law enforcement instruction, including how to teach other policemen so they can return to their communities and pass on their knowledge.

Veterans' Dependants Have Educational Benefits Too

Thousands of wives and children of veterans and servicemen fail to take advantage of benefits and programs provided by Congress despite Veterans Administration efforts to inform each potential beneficiary.

Educational benefits for wives, widows and children of veterans whose permanent, total disabilities or deaths were service-connected was cited by J.E. Mullen, Director of the San Francisco VA Regional Office as one example of the many benefits available. Also eligible for educational benefits are wives and children of servicemen missing in action 9mia0 or prisoners of war (POW) for moe than 90 days.

VA guaranteed home loans are available to wives of POWs and MIAs also and to unremarried widows of veterans and servicemen whose deaths were service-connected.

Widows and minor children may receive two types of monthly payments also, Mullen pointed out. Dependency and indemnity (DIC) is paid if the veteran's death was service-connected. Pension may be paid if death was not service-connected, depending on income of the widow or children. In certain cases parents may be elibigle for DIC checks.

Wives and children, or whoever is designated as beneficiary, are entitled to the veteran's or serviceman's life insurance proceeds upon his death.

Most VA benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans and servicemen require at least 90 days of military service. For post-Korean and Vietnam Era veterans and servicemen the service requirement for GI home loans and educational benefits is at least 181 days.

Receive Award

Thirteen employees of the Naval Postgraduate School recently received Length of Service Awards totaling 310 years from Rear Admiral Mason Freeman, Superintendent.

Assigned to nine different departments at the Navy school, three are from Monterey, six from Pacific Grove, one from Pebble Beach and three reside in Seaside.

Thirty year awards went to Monterey residents Mildred R. Meachem, 1500 Via Isola and Thomas G. Maris, 1628 Josselyn Canyon and Seaside residents Louie W. Jenkins, 1732 Military Ave.; Genne Roger, 1770 Lowell St. and Richard W. Savage, 1955 Mendocino.

Keep Kids In School Is Goal

SAN FRANCISCO--A pilot educational program for school dropouts or potential dropouts in Oakland, to be administered by the Bay Area Urban League, has been funded by the Experimental Schools Program of the National Institute of Education, HEW.

The community-based program will be conducted in cooperation with the Oakland Unified School District with strong citizen participation.

Plans call for serving approximately 300 youth in three facilities to be located in East Oakland, West Oakland and the Fruitvale area.

Persons interested in employment with the project are urged to send their resumes immediately to the Project Director, Oakland Street Academy Program, 1618 San Pablo avenue, Oakland CA 94612.

Requirements include a bachelor's degree and experience as an education administrator, counselor, instructor or specialist in reading, mathematics, social studies or science.

Be Sure To Notify DMV Of Car Sale

A man who sold a car three years ago was recently sued because the car was involved in an accident and Department of Motor Vehicles records showed him as the last known owner. He had never filed a transfer of ownership form with DMV.

"The situation if fairly common," says DMV Director Robert Cozens. "Many people who sign over the pink slip (certificate of ownership) in a person-to-person vehicle sale don't realize that they are still the legal owner of the vehicle until they notify DMV otherwise, if the buyer fails to do so."

Many a buyer doesn't bother. He shies away from paying the use tax or transfer fee or just forgets. And the seller who assumes that the buyer took the signed pink slip to DMV right away can end up in trouble several months--or years--later.

"Unless the seller can show, through having on file a notice of transfer of ownership (Form Reg. 1398) that he sold the car, he is legally responsible for the vehicle," says Cozens.

"The car may be ticketed for parking violations. It may be abandoned, or involved in a crash. A police department or insurance company will trace the vehicle through DMV's computer. It will show the last owner of record."

In 1970 and 1971 DMV sent out a Reg. Form 138 in every renewal notice envelope. Both times, more than 100,000 former owners of vehicles mailed the forms back showing that another owner now had possession of the vehicle.

Volvo Sales Set Fifth Monthly Record In Row

TORRANCE--A fifth month of record sales of new Volvos was recorded during November as a total of 1,128 new cars were sold in the ten-state Volvo Western Distributing, Inc., sales territory.

The announcement of the latest record month was made by Robert J. Sinclair, president of the Torrance, California import car distributorship.

November's record deliveries showed a 36 percent increase over the same month in 1971 and nearly an 18 percent improvement over the best November ever in 1970.

Sales for the year continue to run slightly ahead of 1971's pace. So far, 11,790 units have been sold in 1972, while 11,000 were retailed during the first eleven months of 1971, an increase of just over seven percent.

In addition to setting overall monthly records, three dealers recorded best-ever retail months in their respective cities.

San Diego Volvo and Annex Motors in San Rafael both reported sales of 51 units for the best month by any dealer in those areas.

Kramer Motors, Santa Monica, sold 50 new Bolbos, to register the best-ever effort by any Los Angeles area dealer.

National sales figures also remain ahead of totals for the same period in 1971. Year-to-date new car sales total 47,481 units compared with 45,039 during the first eleven months of last year, an increase of over five percent.

National sales for the month of November were up 40 percent to 4,578 from 3,269 new cars in November 1971.

Note Down Mileage On December 31

The California Society of Certified Public Accountants says that now is a good time to start thinking about tax deductions for the new year, especially if you have an automobile and/or have business automobile expenses.

If either of these situations apply, a taxpayer should note in his tax records his car mileage at December 31.

This establishes a basis for determining the deduction for state gas taxes paid (in California 7 cents per gallon) and for determining business automobile expenses (figured at 12 cents on the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents per mile thereafter if the per mile method of calculation is elected.

If you forgot to mark down the mileage last December 31, your garage bill for repairs or service usually shows mileage. Pull out the one closest to year-end and allow for any time difference.
